

DISASTER IN HAITI

On 12th January, 2010, something very bad happened in Haiti. An earthquake moved the earth and many people died. Why did it happen? I think as it was very hot, the ocean moved the earth and the earth destroyed many buildings. But few people survived. People from the other countries helped Haiti to build the city new. Some children from Haiti have been taken to other countries to have a new family because some families have died.
